

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A data storage system comprising a plurality of storage nodes. Data storage mechanisms are implemented in each storage node communicating a storage request to at least one storage node. The at least one storage node implements the storage request using an arbitrary subset of the storage nodes.